PRICE IN VICINITY

Mayor W. F. Olson is back from a trip to Helper and Sunnyside.

Attorney L. O. Hoffmann left on Sunday night for a business trip to California.

Attorney M. P. Drafter went up Monday night to spend Christmas in Salt Lake.

The Saturday Afternoon Bridge club meets with Mrs. Fred L. Watrous this week.

M. O. Corey will spend the holidays with his folks and friends in Salt Lake City and Ogden.

Primary teacher, Miss Michaels, left Monday afternoon to visit her parents and friends in Colorado.

Mrs. Louise Young went over to Orangeridge Monday to spend the Christmas holidays with her daughter.

R. W. Crockett, Jr., accompanied by R. W. Crockett, Jr., went up to Salt Lake Saturday on insurance business.

Prof. F. S. Davies, wife and children will spend the Christmas vacation visiting with relatives and friends at Provo.

F. C. Nash, Price's new drug store man, is busy getting his fixtures in shape preparatory to receiving his stock of goods.

Mrs. Stanley Hallinger was engaged the latter part of last week and the first of the present to assist on the rush of business at the First National Bank.

O. T. Brooks of Brooks & Hopley went up to Salt Lake Saturday, returning Tuesday morning. Everything was all right in Zion as far as Mr. Brooks could see.

Spencer & Farrimond of Black Hawk was a caller at the Advocate Tuesday and joined the big army of subscribers.

Edgar McArthur, representative of the Lambert Paper company, and wife are the guests this week of Wallace Lowry and wife.

The Advocate goes to press on Wednesday this week and is therefore unable to report the elaborate Christmas tree exercises by the M. E. Sunday school scholars Christmas eve.

A. L. Stout, the new manager of the Consolidated, and wife, the latter arriving here the latter part of last week, are located in the Marcusson house, recently occupied by W. W. Lewis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Lauber and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Bench and families of Price came over Wednesday to attend the festivities at the Geo. E. Bench, Sr., home. They will remain for the holidays.—Maud Messenger.

Mell Homer, Russell Homer and Miss Ruth Homer of Salt Lake, brothers and sister of Mrs. M. O. Maughn, arrived yesterday to spend the holidays. Professor Maughn also expects his mother and father today for Christmas.

Sunday was the shortest day of the year as far as Utah was concerned. According to the weather men the sun rose at 7:16 o'clock and set at 4:12 o'clock, being visible therefore exactly nine hours and twenty-six minutes.

The piano vote contest which has been in progress since last summer at the City Drug store closed Monday night. Mrs. Ray Donaldson was winner of the piano; Miss Nettie Peacock, a gold watch; Miss Catherine McDonald, a gold watch, and Miss Jennie Hunter of Black Hawk, a toilet set.

The ice plant resumed operations Tuesday with Vern Whitmore in charge and assisted by two high class ice men from Denver. A continuous run will be made and the ice stored against any demand that may be made for the product until spring when the plant will be put into permanent operation.

Attorneys C. Stanley Price and Thomas Potts have entered into a partnership to do legal business in all of the courts of the state. The new firm will greet the public at the beginning of the year under the firm name of Price & Potts. The office of the new firm will be in the Eko theater building.

Miss Louisa Jensen, the stenographer at the Price Commercial & Savings bank, left Monday for a Christmas visit with her parents at Mt. Pleasant. Miss Jensen is at least one young lady that is making good in Eastern Utah and has gained the confidence and endorsement of her employers through her industry and capability.

The Christmas edition of the Deseret News was a very creditable one—possibly the best annual effort of that evening paper. Like most special editions, however, only those features of the many communities represented that were paid for appeared, hence as there was no fund to draw on from Price "the Biggest Little City" was conspicuous by its absence.

Price is enjoying real Christmas weather. The few inches of snow that fell the latter part of last week has made sleighing excellent and with zero weather at sunset everyone has entered into the real spirit of Yuletide. As a result of the precipitation and the attendant cold spell Christmas business has been brisk from the coal men to the novelties stores.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stout, who have been favorites in society circles in Mt. Pleasant for the past few years, departed Tuesday for Price, where they will make their home. Mr. Stout has been a very successful manager in the implement business in this city and has been selected to take charge of greater responsibilities at Price.—Mt. Pleasant Pyramid.

The public schools closed Monday. Neither the teachers nor the scholars anticipated such an action on the part of the board and the announcement Monday morning that there was to be a vacation for two weeks came as a distinct surprise and as a pleasant Christmas present to the scholars and teachers residing near enough to Price to return home and spend the Yuletide.
